

What very few are aware of that has huge consequences for science and public health.

Hi everyone,

There is something that very few are aware of that I have recently come to understand after months of deep research and that is that the method they use today to claim the existence of "viruses", which is the use of cell cultures along with toxic agents and starvation of cells without any proper control groups, is actually deemed legally and scientifically invalid and it's part of German case law. In the 2016 measles trial with Dr Stefan Lanka the court noted that the method that was established in June 1, 1954 with John Franklin Enders is unscientific and this is now part of German case law and a matter of public record that everyone of you should really think about. What this means is that the measles trial did not just disprove the existence of the measles "virus" but it refuted the existence of all "viruses" because the method they used to prove the existence of the measles "virus" is still in use today for all other claimed "viruses" and is deemed unscientific and invalid.

You can read more about it in this recent article with Dr Stefan Lanka called "Virologists".

Here is a link to the translated English version of the article: <https://truthseeker.se/virologists-by-dr-stefan-lanka/>

Here is a link to the original version in German: <https://wissenschaftplus.de/uploads/article/wissenschaftplus-virologen.pdf>

Here is an excerpt from the article where this fact is highlighted.

Conclusion

It is now necessary to end the Corona crisis and turn it into an opportunity for all to make these clear, easily comprehensible and verifiable refutations of virology public and effective. These refutations become effective, for example, when appropriate legal remedies are used against virologists in the judiciary and the results are made public. We will inform you via our science-plus mailing list if we have to report results that are ready for decision.

In my name, I guarantee that anyone who would like to check these statements on any "disease-causing virus" will come to exactly the same conclusions if they are able to speak English and have read the methods. Precautionary note: As long as the corona crisis continues, my colleagues and I only answer inquiries regarding alleged so-called corona and measles viruses. For inquiries about all other "viruses" during the Corona period, I refer to the articles that have been published in the WissenschaftlichenPlus magazine since 2003.

Please keep in mind that the highest court-confirmed judgment in the measles virus trial has removed the basis of the entirety of virology. Not only that, it has been judicially established and is therefore part of German case law that the publication of the central method of virology on June 1, 1954, in which the unintentional and unnoticed killing of cells in the laboratory used as evidence of the existence of disease-causing viruses, in the year 2016, no longer proves the existence of a virus!

In this German article Dr Stefan Lanka goes through the measles trial and highlight the scientific and legal ramifications of his success in the higher regional court regarding the measles "virus" and all other claimed "viruses".
